Name Committees To Study Underpass, License Ordinance

Mayor W. W. Hilton Monday night named eight men to the city's underpass study committee to determine feasibility of eliminating the Broadway railroad crossing.

The committee, which will meet soon to elect a chairman, includes Councilmen C. A. Britschgi and Evans A. Fletcher, County Engineer M. A. Grant, Ole Oleson, Willis Ayers, John Ryan, Planning Commission Chmn. A. H. Morgan Jr. and Joseph Territo of the Traffic Safety Committee.

City Mgr. Edgar W. Blom and City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy were named as advisors to the study committee.

The mayor's appointments were announced just before the 2½-hour session — one of the shortest council meetings in months — was adjourned.

Mayor Hilton also named a four-man committee to study proposed changes in the city business license ordinance.

Councilmen Floyd Granger and Chester C. Armstrong, City Manager Blom, and Attorney McCarthy were appointed to the committee.

Failure of Blom to arrive from Iowa in time for Monday night's meeting resulted in postponement of a report on bids for two new fire trucks, as well as reports on alley improvements west of El Camino Real and the request for fire hydrants on Bayshore Hwy.

During the meeting, the council:

1. Referred to the city manager a request from C. F. Malerbi of 16 Jeter St. for scraping of the street;

2. Voted to ask eviction of an occupant of a camp cook wagon at 154 Opal St. where Dep. Fire Chief Joseph Lodi, Health Insp. Emil Stein and Bldg. Insp. L. M. Duncan reported numerous violations;

3. Asked Police Chief C. L. Collins to renew enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting all-night parking on city streets;

4. Granted A. J. Williamson permission to conduct a sales room and fertilizer processing plant on Bayshore Hwy.;

5. Agreed to notify residents adjoining a food locker at 700 Cassia

Post Office Sets Record During 1945

The Redwood City Post Office, which last week was rated as "excellent" by postal inspectors, totaled receipts of $184,353.37 during 1945 to mark an all time high, Postmaster R. E. O'Connell Jr. announced Wednesday.

The receipts mark a three-fold increase over business transacted at the post office 10 years ago when the present building was erected.

December receipts totaled $22,856.15, to fall within $100 of the December 1944 total.

A slight decrease was noted in last month's receipts because of a falling off in use of air mail for service men letters, O'Connell said.

The 1944 yearly total was $175,738.78, he said.

O'Connell today disclosed return of seven of the nine postal employees in service has enabled a plan to increase the city's 12 routes to 14, and to resume twice daily deliveries by Apr. 1.

War-time personnel shortages and expansion of the city necessitated the change to once-a-day deliveries nearly three years ago, O'Connell pointed out.

Income Tax Expert At Courthouse

The Dept. of Internal Revenue reported Monday that a tax expert will be stationed in the supervisors' room of the courthouse every day until Jan. 15 to help people who are seeking advice on filing their returns and their estimates of 1946 income.

Miles Heads Clothing Drive

Ferris W. Miles has been named chairman of the United Nations Clothing Drive by Mayor W. W. Hilton.

The campaign opened Monday in communities throughout the nation. Main local collection depot will be Firehouse 1, opposite the city hall.

Miles will appoint a committee to comb the city but meanwhile residents were asked to go through their used clothes for anything which can be shipped overseas for the use of freezing thousands in war-torn countries.

Most urgently needed are shoes, jackets, skirts, coats, sweaters, suits, trousers, blouses and dresses. In addition, blankets, clean strips of cloth and other cotton goods are requested for the drive.

Francis Britschgi was chairman of the Redwood City drive last Fall which netted hundreds of pounds of vitally needed clothing.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Mothers Ask Permanent Care Centers

Redwood City mothers are adding their weight to the growing demand for permanent child care centers throughout the state with legislation pending at the special session convening in Sacramento which will provide state support of the centers, Mrs. Elenore Benya reported on Wednesday.

Representatives of the parents group here will travel to Sacramento in the next few days to urge approval of pending legislation, she said. At present, the center at the McKinley School cares for 90 children of working mothers but the organization feels that the center should be available for community use and not only for working mothers.

About half of the children at the center here are sons and daughters of service men still overseas or at camps in the United States, she pointed out.

Federal support of the centers will discontinue Mar. 1 and unless the legislature takes action at this session, the 537 centers throughout the state will be forced to close.

The State Department of Education estimated today that a quarter of the mothers with the children enrolled in the centers will have a permanent need for the service after the Mar. 1 deadline. A bill boosted by Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins of Los Angeles County would appropriate $5,000,000 for permanent continuance.

Assemblyman Gardiner Johnson of Berkeley advocates appropriating enough money now to maintain the centers until the next regular session of the legislature.

The Department of Education reports that the 537 centers cost $8,745,777 to operate a year with the four centers in San Mateo County (Redwood City, San Mateo and South San Francisco) accounting for $117,620 of that total during the fiscal year 1944-45.

The Redwood City center, which supervises children 2-14 years old from 6:45 a.m. to 6 p.m., was first threatened with closure last Sept. 22 along with other centers when notices that Federal Lanham Act funds had expired. More funds were granted until the Mar. 1 date.

S. F. Man Files Suit For $26,000 Damages

Mario Christofani of San Francisco has filed a suit for $26,000 in superior court here for injuries suffered in a three-vehicle accident on Bayshore Hwy. north of San Carlos Dec. 12.

Named defendants were the California Paving Co.; Laverne Gottula, truck driver; Francis Stevens, Moffett Field sailor, driver of the third vehicle involved; and M. V. Milen, owner of the automobile.

Auto Fatalities Mount in County

Two men died in a San Carlos high-speed head-on automobile accident Sunday night to boost San Mateo County's traffic death toll to six during the first six days of 1946.

Silvio Vignola, 27, Redwood City taxi driver, was dead on arrival at Community Hospital, and Charles Swanson, 34, wealthy Mountain View frozen foods packer was dead on arrival at Palo Alto Hospital.

Joseph N. Caccamo, 25, Redwood City taxi owner, was in critical condition at Community Hospital as a result of the crash which occurred on El Camino Real north of Howard St. at 10:10 p.m., San Carlos police said.

Dep. Sheriff Jay F. Steele, 63, became the county's fourth traffic casualty Saturday at 4 p.m. when he died in Santa Cruz of injuries suffered Thursday night on the Coast Hwy. south of Pescadero.

San Carlos Police Officers Frank Lucero and Harry Hunt, who investigated Sunday night's crash, reported the southbound car driven by Caccamo, driven at "an excessive rate of speed," passed a car driven by Harold Caccamo, 148 Kellon Ave., San Carlos, just before Swanson's northbound car crossed the center line and plowed into his car.

Caccamo, who resides at 921 Cleveland St., suffered chest injuries, a fractured left leg, and cut knees, hospital attendants reported Monday.

He is on active duty with the navy, stationed at Treasure Island, police said and was to be moved to the navy hospital there in the afternoon.

Vignola, well-known in Redwood City where he had resided for six years, is survived by his widow, Rose, who resides at 508 Chestnut St.

He also leaves his mother, Mrs. Katie Vignola. He was the brother of Mrs. Dora Cesarino, Mrs. Emma Scutero, Danny and Chester Vignola of Redwood City, and Tony Vignola of Michigan and Jerry Vignola of Colorado.

Funeral arrangements for Vignola, who was a native of Colorado, are pending at the Layne & Finney Funeral Home.

Swanson, navy veteran of World War II, leaves his widow, Ruth, and a daughter, Marilyn Jean, by a former marriage.

Funeral services will be conducted in Sacramento at the Gormley Funeral Home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanson, owners of a large meat packing plant, reside in Sacramento, as does his brother, Robert, Jr., and his daughter.

San Carlos police praised the speed of both county and privately-owned Peninsula Ambulance Service which arrived at the scene at 10:17 p.m., five minutes after patrolmen put in a call.

The police schedule showed the Peninsula ambulance reported at Palo Alto Hospital at 10:30 p.m., and the county ambulance arrived at Community Hospital at 10:25 p.m.

More than 200 persons, who gathered at the accident scene, were kept at a distance by San Carlos firemen summoned to stand by when gasoline spilled onto the highway.

Deputy Sheriff Steele suffered internal injuries, a broken pelvis and fractured left forearm in the Coast County Hospital where he died 46 hours later.

At his bedside were his wife, Flora; his daughter, Mrs. Mildred Elliot of San Mateo, and his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Scherer of San Mateo. Mr. Steele also survived by three brothers, J. E. Steele, Palo Alto civil engineer; Harry and Ben Steele of Santa Rosa, and another sister, Mrs. Berna Rodgers of Santa Rosa.

His grandson, Seaman Donald Granger of San Mateo, is suffering from a broken pelvis and fractured hip in the Santa Pacific where he was injured when a gun on his ship accidentally swung out of place, Deputy Steele leaves three other grandchildren: Gail, Elliot and twins, Jan and Jay Elliot of San Mateo.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Wessendorf Mortuary in Santa Cruz by the Rev. Norman Snow of the Santa Cruz Episcopal Church. Private cremation services followed.

Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore, long time friend of Mr. Steele,

33 Seniors Will Graduate

Thirty-three seniors are scheduled to receive their diplomas in traditional cap and gown ceremonies at Sequoia High School Friday night, Feb. 1, Supt. A. C. Argo announced Tuesday.

A guest speaker will probably be announced tomorrow, Argo said. In addition, one graduating senior will speak and musical numbers are being planned.

Because Sequoia has no official band or orchestra this year, the volunteer student band will probably perform, Argo said. One student, Jack G. Hundevadt, completed his high school work in November and is already in the service. Most of the boy graduates are expected to enter the service shortly, the superintendent indicated.

No Senior Week activities are planned for the mid-year graduates. However, the senior ball will be held Saturday night, Feb. 2. Students and faculty are concentrating their graduation efforts on the June commencement as a climax to Sequoia's 50th anniversary celebration, Argo said. A procession with representatives of the various graduating classes from 1898 is being planned.

Tentatively set to graduate are: William L. Bents, Stanton B. Brown, Andrew C. Browne, Charles Dahlstrom Jr., Gilbert J. Evans, James J. Hanley, Beverly J. Harwood, Florence P. Hawkinberry, Ida P. Johnson, James J. Kane, Shirley F. Lambert, Laura J. Loo, James F. Melton, Patricia Milbery, James A. Old Jr., Thomas Ong, Carol Peterson, Glen Powell, Neva L. Prusch, C. LeRoy Rainwater, Robert Rice.

Honore L. Rowley, Barbara G. Shaffer, Juanita Sifuentes, Marian B. Sommer, Robert F. Tarmann, June M. Thompson, Donald F. Thorn, Emory Washburn, John E. Watkins, Betty J. Wheeler, Richard G. Winder, Vivian A. Wyant.

Slated for Early Start

First of the City of Redwood City's $998,000 bond issue for post-war public works may go on sale soon as the result of a decision by city councilmen Monday night to discuss the matter at the Jan. 21 council meeting.

City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy reported the bond market was favorable at this time, and also pointed out that money for the sewage disposal plant, number one priority on the list of projects, would soon be needed.

The first state to levy a registration fee on automobiles was New York, in 1901.

Plan 550 Homes In Linfield Oaks

As soon as material becomes available construction will begin on 550 homes in the Linfield Oaks subdivision, formerly the Hopkins tract, in Menlo Park, adjacent on the north side to Dibble General Hospital, according to Ray Lindsay, of the Claude T. Lindsay Co., developers of the new subdivision.

According to Lindsay, present plans call for Linfield Oaks becoming a residential community. In line with the plans, a small shopping center will be located near Middlefield Rd.

Construction on streets and utilities is set to begin as soon as climatic conditions permit, he added.

Although the tract is now in an unincorporated area it borders on Menlo Park as a result of last week's annexation of the army hospital.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

Inflation takes another gazelle leap forward for Commuters and San Franciscans alike on Jan. 20, when city bus and streetcar fares are hiked from 7 cents to 10 cents straight or three for a quarter. Inflation occurs, the economists tell us, when the public consistently pays a higher price than a thing is worth. That fits a San Francisco streetcar ride. It isn't worth 5 cents, even when you can get on one, so they charge 7 cents; and now they're going to boost it to 10 cents, or 3 rides for two-bits.

The theory is, with more revenue the city can buy more buses. This is silly on its face to anyone who knows the real traffic problem in San Francisco. The supervisors who voted for the increase had their

Judge Cotton Shuffles Courts Here

Judge Aylett R. Cotton Tuesday issued a court order shuffling San Mateo County's superior court departments.

By the order, Judge Cotton, senior judge since the death last week of Judge Maxwell McNutt, will switch from the judgeship of Dept. 2 to Dept. 1.

The move will mean that Judge Cotton will occupy the spacious and more desirable quarters formerly occupied by Judge McNutt. The Dept. 1 quarters were designed for court quarters, whereas the courtroom which Judge Cotton has been occupying was formerly used as supervisors' chambers.

Judge Cotton will continue to handle all cases he has been handling, and the new judge, when he is appointed, will be given new cases.

Assignments to Dept. 1 will be made as follows:

1. Civil and criminal cases and probate matters bearing even numbers (reference being made to filing numbers).
2. All juvenile cases.
3. Matters specially assigned regardless of file number.

The junior judge will preside over Dept. 2.

"All business which up to and including the date of this order has been assigned or transferred to, or is pending before Dept. 1 of this court, including matters in which there is continuing jurisdiction, regardless of file numbering, is hereby transferred to Dept. 2 hereof," Judge Cotton's order states.

To Dept. 2 shall henceforth be assigned for disposition the following:

1. Civil and criminal cases and probate matters bearing odd numbers (reference being made to filing numbers).
2. All insanity hearings.
3. Matters specially assigned regardless of file number.

Judge Cotton inserted an important point in his order, when he declared: "... grand juries shall remain in office until discharged by the judge presiding over the selection thereof."

Prior to Judge McNutt's death there was considerable speculation as to whether Judge McNutt would disband the grand jury appointed by Judge Cotton and name his own jury.

Judge Cotton declared it is the law that the judge who selects a jury has the power to discharge it and that he inserted the notation in his order for clarification and to end future speculation.

The selection and presiding over grand juries shall be alternated, Judge Cotton said. There shall be an annual listing of grand juries, but this provision is not mandatory.

Judge Cotton said he probably would allow the new judge to name the next grand jury. He said he was allowed to appoint a new jury the first year after he succeeded the late Judge Franklin Swart.

Examinations for citizenship classes shall be alternated between the department's monthly, Judge Cotton's order stated.

"This rule is not mandatory, and may be excepted by agreement of the judges," he added.

Cotton signed the order as judge acting for both departments.

There was some comment at the courthouse today as to whether or not Cotton might jeopardize his standing by transferring to Department 1 but one official source declared Cotton was within his rights in transferring.

Judge McNutt's death will mean that some cases which were pending before him will have to be tried over or stipulated to by the attorneys. In cases which Judge McNutt had affixed his signature to findings, no retrial will be necessary.

Meantime, members of the executive board of the San Mateo County Central Labor Council last night were instructed to study possible candidates to fill the vacancy on the superior court bench caused by the death of Judge McNutt.

The committee will report back to the council with recommendations for nominees or a possible recommendation to support none of the candidates.

tongues in their cheeks, and a rabbit's foot in each hand. They know better than anyone else they are merely stalling the inevitable. More buses indeed! The trouble with San Francisco is that there are already more vehicular units of transportation, private and public, than surface streets can accommodate. Honking buses and private autos and clanging of streetcars stand end-to-end for miles during the rush hours, traffic paralyzed and congested simply because there is much too much for a one-level system.

Why haven't the chief administrative officers and supervisors of San Francisco courage enough to call a spade a spade... and then reach for several thousand and start digging a subway? There is no other solution. San Francisco shot its bolt on surface expedients when it adopted the one-way thoroughfares. It gave some slight relief but it didn't remedy. In the meantime the city continues to grow. Several hundred thousand residents and commuters move like a flood tide, twice a day, in and out of the narrow confines of the downtown area. It's a big business, metropolitan transportation. And it's still being handled like a cow town in San Francisco!

The San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission proposes a New Year's resolution for motorists and pedestrians alike, the burden of which is "Be Careful." For motorists, "BE IT RESOLVED, that I will improve my highway behavior by practicing safe driving... that while behind the wheel I will keep in mind the job at hand which is the complete control of a powerful machine I am piloting... I will commit no driving errors... observe local laws... practice common courtesy, etc." For the pedestrian, "RESOLVED, that I will try to understand something of the motorist's limitations, especially at night when the pedestrian can see the headlights but the driver cannot see a pedestrian in dark clothes." Let us all make that resolution, both as motorist and pedestrian... and avoid that run-down feeling.

Prettiest indoor tree seen from the street—Lou Winklerwerder's. Watched the New Year dawn with the Fred Jaegers and friends. It was de-lightful. First New Year's eve away from the Caboese birth in 19 years. We heard of a pretty New Year's day where they served a bromo seltzer with the oar derves. Nothing like starting the New Year with no unfinished business.

We understand they are building a new telephone exchange in Redwood City which will central a new system of all dial phones. One nice thing about the dial phone, it enables the subscriber to get his own wrong numbers.

Directors meet tomorrow night at Roy Fredlund's home on King St. Then Thursday evening, Jan. 10, the Commuters hold their regular monthly dinner meeting at Grace & Pierre's. Our able secretary, Ed De Bow, advises as follows: "Our featured speaker for the first meeting of the New Year will be Mr. Ned Butler, manager of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce." We hope Mr. Butler will tell us what's holding up several much needed projects that the chamber of commerce can be helpful in putting over.

R. L. Spangler Heads C. of C.

Directors of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce Monday night elected R. L. Spangler, publisher of the Tribune, president for 1946. Spangler succeeds Teddy Lauman, Francis Britschgi, Occidental Dairy, was elected vice president, and E. W. Butler was reappointed manager.

Five newly elected directors joined the board: K. L. Bowen, co-publisher of the Redwood City Star-Advertiser; Culbert Currie, attorney; Stanley Perkins, Commuters Club; Walter (Bud) Kellogg, National Motor Bearing Co.; and Thom Rhorabough, S.W. They succeed Ralph Hallett, Ferris Herk Miles, Edmund Scott, Sidney Herkner, and Bert Conroy. Holdover members are John Ryan, Lauman, Britschgi and Spangler.

The officers will be introduced at the annual chamber of commerce banquet planned later this month, Butler announced.

The new president called upon each of the directors for a list of projects for the chamber's 1946 budget of projects, and requested that they be submitted at a special meeting next Monday. Under consideration is a $10,000 outlay. The directors urged the county to participate in the State Fair at Sacramento next August and instructed Butler to investigate the possibility of Redwood City's participation.

Spangler is serving his second term on the board. He is outgoing president of the Redwood City Exchange Club, a former member of the Red Cross executive board, and was chairman of the Victory Loan campaign in Redwood City.

Huge Marine Corps Base Planned for Tanforan

A large U. S. Marine Corps base, comparable to the one in Balboa Park, San Diego, is being planned for early construction on acreage owned by the navy at Tanforan base in San Bruno, it became known Tuesday.

High ranking marine officers have been at the San Bruno base making a survey of buildings on 46 acres owned by the navy and are said to be in agreement that it should be used as a shipping center for marines being sent to police

City Manager Plan Given Burlingame

BURLINGAME—City Councilman Leon Whittell tossed a political bombshell Monday night when he introduced a resolution calling for a city manager form of government operating with the city council.

The move caught minority members of the council unaware, Councilmen Jack Roth and Allan Hunt, sponsors of the controversial city manager form of government, did not expect the action.

The resolution will come up for second reading at the next meeting of the city council, Jan. 21.

Peterson Asks Hog Ranch Action

County Executive Frederick Peterson Monday sought to rush Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell into action on the hog ranch situation in the north end of the county.

In a letter to Ferrell, Peterson said: "I have received numerous inquiries from time to time regarding the hog ranch situation in the north end of the county. As this matter has been in your hands for some time, kindly advise the present status of the matter."

Peterson enclosed a notation from a South San Francisco weekly newspaper in which it was charged: "Politicians, for one reason or another, have failed to take action to abate this nuisance."

Bartender Freed Of Burglary Charge

Police Judge Edward I. McAuliffe Tuesday dismissed a charge of burglary against Charles L. Slone Jr., 32-year-old bartender on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Slone was accused of burglarizing the 2030 Club here, where he had worked for a month as bartender, on Apr. 5, 1945. He was arrested Dec. 21 and has been held in jail since that time. The 2030 Club was burglarized of $250.

ly newspaper in which it was charged: "Politicians, for one reason or another, have failed to take action to abate this nuisance."

Name Directors For Gables Group

A six-member board of directors for 1946 was elected by the Felton Gables Improvement Assn. at an annual meeting Monday night at the Menlo Park Central School.

Named to the board were J. L. Rogers, William Corbus, John A. Bunting, Julius Reiter, Harold Bishop and Mrs. Edward Church. Officers for the current year will be elected by the directors at a later meeting.

The organization was formed for the maintenance and welfare of the Felton Gables tract.

S.F. Men Arrested On Auto Theft Charge

Two San Francisco men were arrested early Wednesday by California Highway Patrolman Paul Perussina on automobile theft charges. The arrest was made at 5:11 a.m. on Bayshore Hwy. north of Burlingame.

Arrested were Martin F. Ryan, 23, and Byron Palmer, 24. The car was registered to Helen Westlake of San Francisco. Perussina stopped the automobile for "cutting in."

How to cook the less tender cuts of meat

Braising, including pot-roasting and "swissing," is a favored way for cooking the less tender cuts of meat. Long, slow cooking with moist heat, either on top of the stove or in the oven, in a tightly covered pan or kettle is necessary to make the meat tender.

GOOD CUTS TO POT-ROAST

Though you most often think of beef in the role of pot roast, we like to cook lamb, veal and pork by this method, too.

BEEF: Heel or eye of round, cross-rib, round-bone, seven-bone, rump, chuck, neck, shoulder-arm, or clod. Buy no less than 3 pounds, preferably 4 or 5.

VEAL: Shoulder, boned or not as you like, leg, rump or blade.

PORK: Shoulder, Boston butt or picnic.

LAMB: Shoulder, breast or cushion.

THE SECRETS OF SUCCESSFUL POT ROASTING

The trick in pot-roasting is to brown the meat first on both sides, rather slowly, in a little melted suet or shortening if the meat hasn't much fat. Then season with salt and pepper and add a bit of carrot, onion, parsley or celery for flavor and then add about a cup of liquid—water, soup stock, vegetable juices, milk, sweet or sour cream or diluted vinegar. Cover tightly and cook very slowly until the meat is so tender you can almost cut it with a fork. Add a little more liquid from time to time if the meat begins to cook dry. Allow 30 to 40 minutes per pound when cooked on top of the stove, or about 45 minutes per pound in a moderate oven (350° F.).

TRY BRAISING WITH VEGETABLES

We like to cook other less tender cuts and some that are tender by browning and then simmering slowly in a covered utensil with a small amount of liquid. Then we add vegetables such as potatoes, carrots, onions, string beans, etc., about a half hour before the meat is done. Here are some of the meats best to braise.

BEEF: Top and bottom round, flank steak, short ribs, sirloin tip, liver.

LAMB: Shoulder, either whole or cut in cubes, breast or neck.

PORK: Though pork is usually considered one of the tender meats, we like to braise pork chops, steaks and cutlets, slices from the butt and liver.

The rich brown gravy goes perfectly with mashed or boiled potatoes.

VEAL: Most cuts of veal are better braised than cooked by dry heat because veal has considerable connective tissue and the moisture is necessary to soften it. Practically all cuts are good braised—shoulder, either whole or in cubes, steaks, chops, ribs, etc.

Bayshore Freeway Move in State Suit

New steps toward construction of the new Bayshore Freeway were taken Wednesday when the state filed a suit in eminent domain in superior court here to acquire 14 parcels of land in San Mateo and Burlingame. Judge Andrew R. Schottky signed the decree giving the state possession.

The suit named 48 individuals and companies and 210 Does as defendants. The parcels are located between Winchester Dr. in Burlingame and Peninsula Ave., San Mateo.

A check for $20,459 was deposited by the state with County Clerk William H. Augustus for the parcels. Damages will be determined by court action at a later date.

Parcel 12 (Peninsula Ave. east of Bayshore Hwy.), parcel 13 (Peninsula Ave. and along Bayshore Hwy. south of Peninsula Ave.) and parcel 14 (also Peninsula Ave.) are in connection with the overpass that is proposed at Peninsula Ave.

Other parcels are on Winchester Pl. west of Bayshore, Marin Dr. west of Bayshore Hwy., Burlingame Ave. west of Bayshore, between North Humboldt and Howard Aves. west of Bayshore and opposite Howard Ave. on the east side of Bayshore Hwy.

Bids for construction of the freeway are expected to be let this Spring.

FACES OPIUM CHARGE

A Chinese farmer, Tue-Suey Guey, 45, was in the county jail here today on a charge of possession of opium. He was arrested yesterday by health authorities for violation of the health and safety code. He worked on the Ferretti Ranch near Colma.

Mrs. Mary Weber, Teacher, Dies

Mrs. Mary F. Weber, a resident of San Mateo County for 42 years and a school teacher in the Alpine District for 15 years, died Monday at her home 400 Warren Rd., San Mateo, following a brief illness. She was 76 years of age.

Mrs. Weber, the former Mary Doyle, was the widow of Louis Weber, who died in 1939. She was the mother of Louis Weber and Mrs. Frances Stewart of San Mateo. She had two grandchildren.

Mrs. Weber was a charter member of the San Mateo County Historical Society, a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West and of St. Catherine's Catholic Church, Burlingame.

Funeral services were held Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Catherine's Church, where High Mass was observed. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park.

Labor Council Reinstalls John C. Healy

John C. Healy of Redwood City was reinstated president of the San Mateo County Central Labor Council Monday night by Daniel B. Flanagan, western representative of the American Federation of Labor. Members of the council were served a buffet supper following the installation ceremonies.

Flanagan addressed the council, and outlined history and growth of the AFL. He urged continued non-partisan politics on the part of the union.

During the meeting, Thomas Small was appointed delegate to a Jan. 10 meeting of the California Labor Consumer Assn. which will discuss the Central Valley Project.

Lynn Marget Strandberg Wins First-Baby Contest

Tiny Lynn Margaret Strandberg will start her life with a bounty of gifts and prizes from Redwood City merchants with the official announcement that she was the first baby born to parents in this area in the New Year.

Weighing 7 pounds, 6 ounces, Lynn Margaret made her debut at the Palo Alto Hospital at 3:15 a.m. New Year's Day. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egan Strandberg of 917 Holly St., San Carlos. They have another daughter, Sydney Janet, 3½.

Mr. Strandberg is a civil engineer with the California State Division of Highways.

Among the gifts awaiting the parents' personal appearance at the Tribune office are: A Hanks-craft baby feeding set, including a cup, spoon, and hat water-warmed dish from the Kler Drug Co.; an electric steam vaporizer with electric cord attachment and a little ring of gold from Reinhard and Co.; jewelers; a 100 per cent wool shawl from Penney's; a hand-knitted jacket and bonnet set from Stowe's Gift and Record Shop; a high chair from the Union Furniture Co.

In addition, a $250 merchandise order from Ryan's Drug Co.; $2 in Victory Stamps from the Sanitary Diaper Service; an $810 candid portrait from the Keith Cole studio; the First National Bank of San Mateo County will open a savings account for the baby.

Mrs. Strandberg will receive a bed jacket from the Younger Set

FUNNY BUSINESS

"He evidently forgets he's out of the Army!"

Plan Lectures to Explain Sequoia Building Proposals

Supt. A. C. Argo of Sequoia High School and Dr. James Thornton, director of research at the school, will conduct an information series of lectures on the need for the $1,500,000 building bond issue which trustees approved Friday night, they announced Monday.

Argo said that he would contact all organizations in the district following the Jan. 18 trustees' meeting when Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan is scheduled to have prepared a resolution setting the $1,500,000 election for Tuesday, March 19.

In a prepared statement to county newspapers Monday, Argo said the "trustees are asking citizens to approve the issue from the standpoint of economy and the ability to furnish the Menlo Park and San Carlos-Belmont areas with the first units of new high schools."

"Because of the present very low interest rate on bonds, 1½ per cent, and the great possibilities that interest rates will be higher in three or four years, it is economical to raise the needed money now rather than hold a bond issue for just enlargements at Sequoia and another in three or four years for the proposed new high school," the superintendent pointed out.

"The proposed plan calls for building the Sequoia plant large enough to offer a rich program in vocational and cultural subjects. All the students in the district will thus be offered a splendid shop, home-making, music, art, commercial and college preparatory course."

Argo said that Sequoia is now 25 per cent overcrowded, that nine teachers have no homerooms and must teach from one room to another during the day, that shop classes are overcrowded and many students wanting such courses must be turned down because of inadequate facilities.

"The present Sequoia plant was built to accommodate 1600 students; enrollment is now 2000 and a careful study of elementary enrollments and building statistics indicates an enrollment of at least 3200 in five years," he stated. "The $1,500,000 issue will provide for 3200 students, 2500 of these at Sequoia and 350 each in the new schools at opposite ends of the district."

"The proposed plan provides an excellent basic program in the Menlo Park and San Carlos-Belmont plants," Argo said. "The first units in each plant will include 12 academic classrooms for the study of English, social studies, science, mathematics, language, art and commercial subjects, two homeroom rooms, a fundamental shop, a gymnasium and an auditorium."

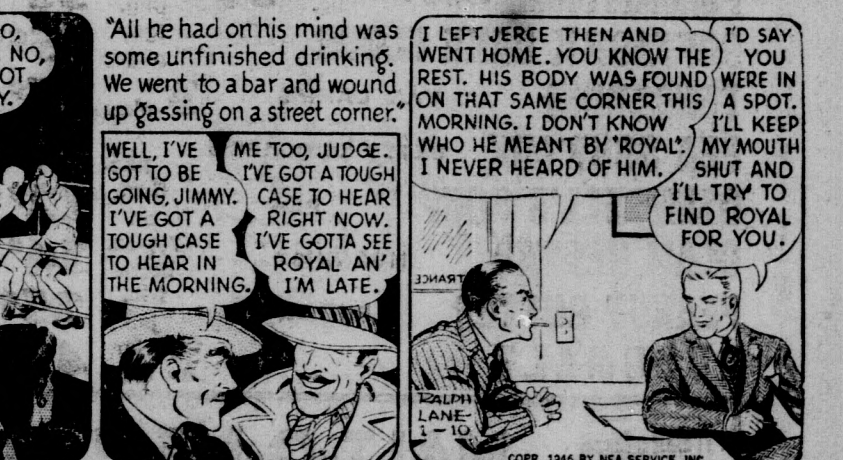

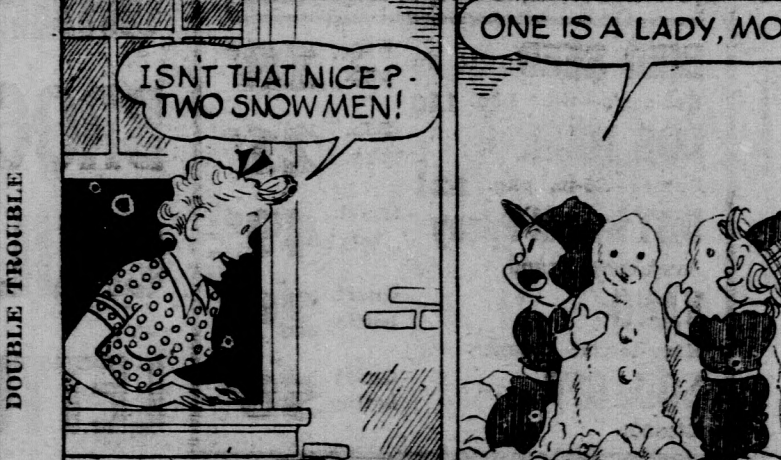

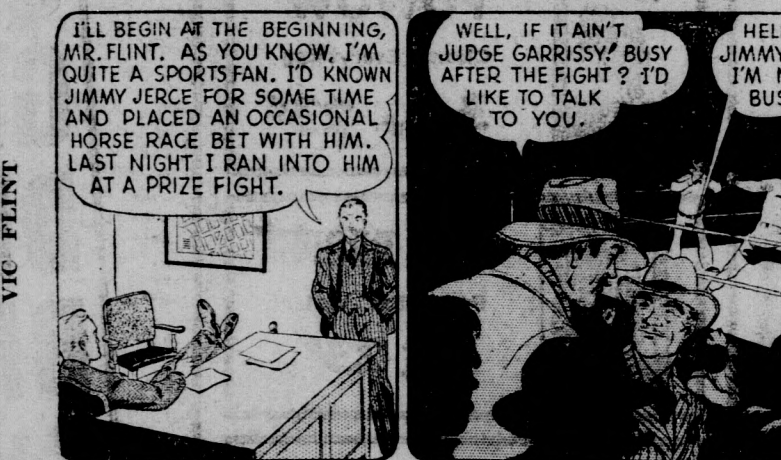

"Students wishing other vocational or cultural courses may enroll at Sequoia. In time, when the enrollment justifies, the two new high schools can be built to a point of offering as complete a program as is offered at the Sequoia plant," Argo said.

Summing up the arguments, Argo said the program is: (1) economical; (2) provides from the start a rich vocational and cultural program for all students in the district; and (3) provides high schools in Menlo Park and San Carlos-Belmont.

$200,000 Commercial Menlo Development
MENLO PARK—A $200,000 development of the Santa Cruz Ave. commercial zone in Menlo Park has begun by Ross Chamberlain, Inc., builder, and H. E. Goss, real estate operator.
The entire Santa Cruz Ave. frontage on both sides of the thoroughfare in the vicinity of Chestnut St. will be built into commercial buildings for lease, according to Victor Greisser, Menlo Park realtor.
